

About: Since its creation in October of 2009, www.geeksweets.net has had a steady growth in readership, and is popular among other online bakers and baking enthusiasts. Geek Sweets is a bakery business and blog geared to goodie lovers and goodie creators who are more 'geekily- inclined.' Our website is regularly updated with new blog posts featuring recipes, tutorials and photos of geeky baked goods, related materials and events. The website is advertised at events such as conventions and markets, as well as posts being cross promoted on Twitter, Facebook, Pinterest and Tumblr all of which have a large, regularly-vetted following. The website has also been promoted on various television outlets, such as A Morning Ottawa and a popular baking show in Japan.

Giveaways: Any product giveaways or items provided for contests will include a blog post on Geek Sweets showcasing your business or product, which will also be cross-promoted via our social media outlets.

GET SOME SWEETS!

Specializing in tasty treats for the more geekily inclined, Geek Sweets is a home-based bakery making specialty cakes, cupcakes, cookies and other yummy baked goods. Everything is made from scratch with the freshest Ottawa ingredients, just like grandma used to make. If grandma made cookies shaped like weighted companion cubes and Battlestar Galacticakes.

Drop me a line at jenny@geeksweets.net, or call 613-797-6293 in the Ottawa area and let's talk nerdy.
